Graduate Studies at UC Davis

For nearly a century, graduate education has been a major feature at UC Davis. In fall of 1925, the first 12 students graduated from the College of Agriculture.

Since then, graduate education at UC Davis has expanded to offer more than 100 graduate and professional degree programs. Each year, more than 7,000 students from around the world dedicate themselves in the pursuit of an advanced degree.

UC Davis' collaborative and interdisciplinary curricula brings students and faculty together to address real-world challenges. This synergy puts graduate students at the forefront of groundbreaking research that confronts the world's most pressing problems.

In support of this comprehensive vision, UC Davis established the Graduate Center at Walker Hall. Located in the heart of the Davis campus, the Graduate Center promotes interdisciplinary collaboration and supports the academic, professional and personal needs of the graduate student and postdoctoral scholar community. As scholars, researchers, teachers and community builders, our Graduate Studies community has a broad impact at UC Davis. The Graduate Center provides a dedicated space to support these efforts.

Congratulations on your tremendous achievement!

As an advanced degree graduate of UC Davis, you are poised to confront today's most pressing challenges. Your experiences, knowledge and leadership skills will continue to serve you throughout your life.

As you embark on this exciting next phase in life, stay connected to your Aggie roots by joining the Graduate Alumni Network.

The Graduate Alumni Network is a one-of-a-kind networking, mentoring, and professional development community for graduate and postdoctoral alumni of UC Davis. The graduate education community is unique, and this network aims to reflect that.

We invite you to connect with us. Learn more and join us at grad.ucdavis.edu/alumninetwork.
